Norsud provides this Internet website for your use.

By opening and using the site, you agree to comply with the general conditions.

Norsud may update these conditions directly at any time without any prior or separate notification.

II. Copyright

Norsud owns all the copyright regarding the website and the rights of use relative thereto.

- The items available on the website (text, photographs, images, icons, sound, video, software, databases etc.) are protected by intellectual and/or industrial copyright.
- Without the prior agreement of Norsud, it is prohibited to copy, modify, pass on, publish or adapt, on any medium whatsoever, or use in any way whatsoever, all or part of the website content.
- The violation of these provisions could be punishable by legal action, in particular in the event of counterfeit.

III. Guarantee Exclusion

Norsud may update these conditions directly at any time without any prior or separate notification.

To confirm the information obtained, you may contact your usual intermediary at Norsud who will refer you to the person best able to answer your questions.

Norsud does not guarantee that the website will operate uninterruptedly, without errors and in a dependable manner.

IV. Responsibility

You recognize and accept the fact that the site is used under your own exclusive responsibility.

Neither Norsud or any third party involved in the creation, production or implementation of the website can be held liable for any damage or prejudice resulting from your access to the website or its use (in particular downloads from the website).

Similarly, Norsud cannot be held liable for malicious programs (in particular viruses, Trojan horses etc.) which could infect your IT equipment or any other hardware or software, or any losses or alteration of data subsequent to you gaining access to and using the website (including downloads from the website). Norsud cannot be held responsible for any links to other websites.

These are supplied to you for information only.

A link to any page on the website, or to any other website, is used under your sole responsibility.

Norsud cannot be held responsible for the content and services provided by third parties.

V. Cookies policy and respect for data

Our website uses cookies. These are small text files which are stored on your hard drive. Most cookies are designed to allow or facilitate your navigation of the site and are necessary for our platform to work.

On this site, cookies are used to analyse visitors via the Google Analytics service; target advertising through the program Google AdSense and; if you have a user account with us, maintain the connection in the service management interface proposed.

You can set your search engine so that cookies are generally refused on your device or your consent is required each time. You can also, at any time, delete cookies activated. You can find detailed instructions on how to use these functions in the "Help" section of your search engine. Please note that the general disabling of cookies may limit certain features of our website.

The data collected when you signed up to our services will never be communicated to any third parties.

The processing of personal data carried out in connection with this site has been declared to CNIL no. 1688399.

All this processing is carried out by the site editor.

In accordance with the French Data Protection Act of 6 January 1978 (Loi Informatique et Libertés), you have the right to access and correct information about you. If you wish to exercise this right and obtain information about yourself, please use our contact form.

VI. Attribution of jurisdiction

These general conditions are applicable under French law.

In the event of a dispute, the competent jurisdictions will be those of the court of Villefranche sur Saône in France.
